I. Introduction:

1. Basic disadvantages of the traditional lottery:

- People in a country cannot buy lotteries from another country. That means that people can only buy lotteries where they live. If they want to buy lotteries from another country, they have to come to that country.
- To buy lotteries, buyers must go to lottery ticket counters or meet ticket sellers.
- After buying the lottery ticket, you must safeguard it carefully.
- To know if you won the lottery, you must look up the results.
- Upon winning a prize, you must contact the lottery office to fulfill some procedures in order to receive the prize.

These are the disadvantages of ticket sales and prize payouts.

2. Lottery Demand:

* There is a part of the population with the great demand for lottery, especially the major and prestigious lottery prizes with attractive jackpot such as Megamillions; Powerball (USA).

* Buy lotteries primarily for the following purposes:

- Test your luck, because the reward is too big for the price of the ticket, they buy to check if fortune smiled on them?
- For charity (help the lottery ticket vendors to have more earnings).

* Money sources to buy lottery

They are small changes, extra money left over after shopping; These are insignificant amount and will not affect their lives.

* When do they buy a lottery ticket?

- Buying occasionally, when convenience
- Buying periodically (for example: to test their luck, they buy periodically for a certain period of time. For each lottery, they buy 1 ticket, if they win then they can continue to buy more; if not, they can stop and never buy again)
- They buy lottery tickets because they like it
